A JOURNEY BEGINS - FIRST-YEAR ORIENTATION PROGRAM

- Ruchika Agarwal
Asst. Prof. (HTM)
School of Vocational Studies

A university's orientation program for first-year students is a vital component of the academic journey, serving as a bridge from high school to university life. Its objectives include academic preparedness, social integration, campus familiarization, and fostering mental and emotional well-being.

On 17th July 2023, the School of Vocational Studies welcomed a fresh batch of first year students. Dr. Daxesh Thakar- Provost, VVU, motivated and blessed the students. Dr. Vinita Mod-Dean, SVS also addressed the students. The senior students had put together a cultural show for the first year students to give them a warm welcome.

Overall, the program set the stage for a successful and fulfilling university experience, helping students embark on their academic journey with confidence and enthusiasm

Memoranda of Understanding (MOUs) between academia and industry are pivotal for fostering collaboration and knowledge exchange. These agreements facilitate the transfer of expertise, promoting innovation and practical research. By connecting academia with real-world industry challenges, MOUs enhance skill development, drive economic growth, and ensure the relevance of academic research. They also provide access to resources, networking opportunities, and long-term partnerships that benefit both sectors, ultimately contributing to societal advancement.

On 7th August 2023, the School of Vocational Studies signed 4 important MoU's with industry partners.

EXPERT TALK ON FASHION PSYCHOLOGY

Event Reported by
Ms. Megha Gohil, Asst. Professor

On 10th August 2023 an expert talk was delivered by Dr. Aditya Farsole, HoD, Department of Psychology, VVWU. It mainly focused on behavioral science in the fashion world. After the session, students were able to relate psychological processes to their designing process. They will be able to better understand consumer behavior to guide them in creating a healthy body image. Moreover, students will come to know how fashion influences human behavior and vice versa. It also helped to understand how fashion design influences healthy body image, how psychology guides a more sustainable view of clothing manufacturing and disposal, and why we adopt particular buying habits.
